

2019 MSI Future Leaders' Meeting

June 22, Chicago (USA)

MSI's Future Leaders' Meeting provides junior partners and senior associates with an invaluable forum to develop their leadership skills and to network with their peers.

As leaders are preparing themselves to thrive in a world that is changing rapidly, the goal is to stay ahead of every challenge, solve problems that don't even exist yet, and see uncertainty as opportunity.

The best place to start is to establish the mindset and capability to reach across boundaries and lead collectively. This leverages our differences as strengths and gives us the opportunity to collectively design the innovations that pull us all forward, together.

Our Future Leaders' Meeting will be led by Rebecca Braitling, founder of InspiraWork, who will in this interactive workshop provide future leaders with the opportunity to learn through research, interactive experiences and collective discussion. The workshop will also provide the opportunity to plan for follow up actions that reinforce learning and create practical application immediately.

The meeting will enable MSI future leaders to:

- Strengthen their leadership and management skills
- Discover and build on their strengths
- Prepare them for future challenges
- Enhance their collaboration skills
- Network with peers and learn about MSI Global Alliance
